

International workshop on freshwater aquaculture research priorities in Europe

Tartu, Estonia, 8-9 May 2019

Struve II Hall in Dorpat Convention Centre

PROVISIONAL AGENDA

7 May 2019

Arrival to Tartu.

Accommodation at Dorpat Hotel.

8 May 2019

9.00-9.30 Registration - Struve II Hall in Dorpat Convention Centre

9.30-9.45 Opening addresses

Keynote presentations by invited experts

9.45-10.15 Aquaculture research within the context of bioeconomy (Béla Halasi-Kovács, NARIC Research Institute for Fisheries and Aquaculture, Hungary)

10.15-10.45 The BIOEAST Initiative (Helena Pärenson, Ministry of Rural Affairs, Estonia)

10.45-11.00 Coffee break

11.00-11.30 Freshwater aquaculture in the EU and its research agenda (Laszlo Varadi, NACEE, Hungary)

11.30-12.00 The SCAR-Fish prioritization exercise and the freshwater aquaculture research priorities (Peter Lengyel, Ministry of Agriculture, Hungary)

12.00-12.30 Discussion

12.30-13.30 Lunch

Session on freshwater aquaculture research needs

13.30-15.00 Short presentations and case studies on the main directions and priorities of freshwater aquaculture research in different countries

15.00-15.15 Coffee break

15.15-16.00 Roundtable discussion with representatives of producer associations on research gaps and needs in their respective countries

16.00-16.30 Work in groups – identifying common needs and priorities

16.30-17.00 Discussion of the results in plenary, proposing a prioritized list of the most important freshwater aquaculture topics

17.00-17.30 Follow-up, decision on further elaboration of the proposed topics recommended for inclusion into the Horizon Europe programme

17.30 Closing of the workshop

9 May 2019

Field trip to aquaculture farms.

Start at 9 am (near the Dorpat Hotel)

1. Härjanurme Kalatalu; main species: rainbow trout, common carp, sturgeon, noble crayfish.
2. Simuna Ivax OÜ Äntu farm; main species: rainbow trout; arctic char, sturgeon.

The bus will reach Tallinn Airport at 3 pm.