

Clean Water Hackathon

While we don't seem to have a lack of water in the Baltics, our water ecosystem faces a different problem. According to the latest report from the European Environment Agency (EEA), 60% of European rivers and lakes are failing to pass the good water quality criteria. We face a very similar situation in Baltic countries as well.

It's the first time we unite all three Baltic countries and the people working daily to preserve our waters for the opportunity to work on this together - we invite you to join an online Clean Water Hackathon.

WHAT ARE THE GOALS?

Clean Water Hackathon powered by Katalista Ventures and Baltcap will not only raise awareness about the water pollution problem in the three Baltic states but will also create solutions that have both financial validity and positive environmental impact.

We are here to create actionable impact.

WHO ARE THE PARTICIPANTS?

We will have 10 teams from Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia that will consist of 2-5 members in each team. We are inviting people from:

- Universities
- NGOs
- Startups
- Research centers
- Environmental organisations
- Environmental enthusiasts
- Others who are passionate about this cause

WHAT ARE THE MAIN CHALLENGES?

1

Identify one water body as a case study

2

Identify the pollution cause of the chosen body of water

3

Create a solution for cleaning that body of water which can be scaled later

WHY IS IT WORTH PARTICIPATING?

BE A THOUGHT LEADER

engage with the participants, provide your mentors, share your knowledge and have a possibility to support them in creating impactful solutions.

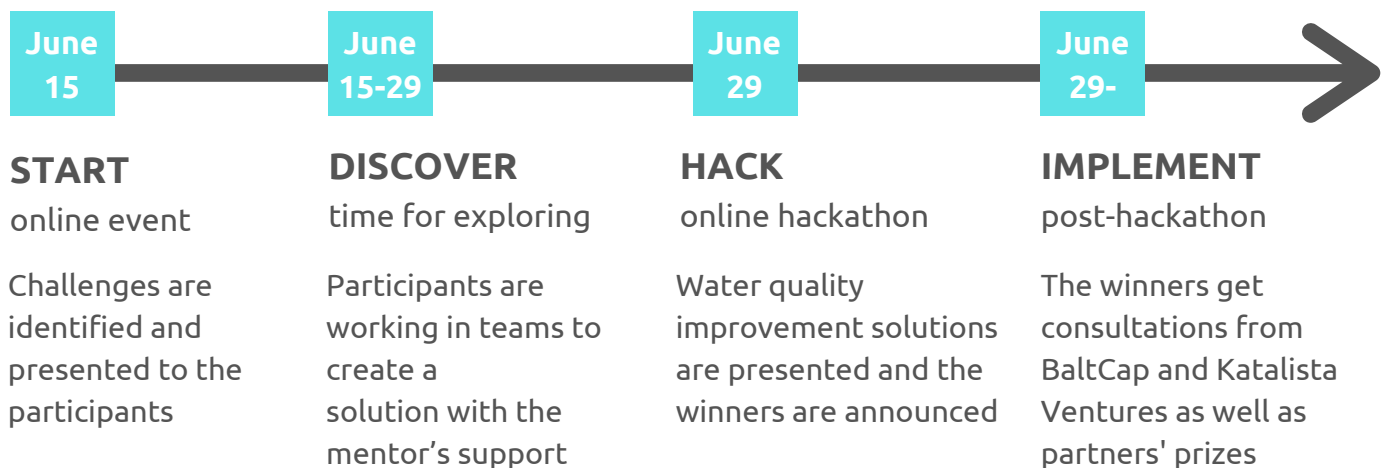

BECOME STRONGER

meet with other mentors and stakeholders, use this chance to create new partnerships and reach your environmental KPIS while engaging your team with the clean water challenge.

ONBOARD INNOVATION

you will be welcome to use the developed solutions and the knowledge facilitated by this Hackathon for your organisational goals.
